Emory Olive recieved a severe cut at the hands of Reese Johnson on last Saturday evening about 8 o'clock, near the old planing mill. He was cut on the temple above the ear. It seems from the reports that Ed Johnson, a son of Reese, first became involved with Alonzo Davis, his father interfered and Emory Olive who was acting as peace maker, was then cut by Reese Johnson. Pistols were drawn by both Johnsons. Mr. Olive was brought back to town, and Dr. Joe Kennedy summoned, and nine stitches taken. Dr. Kennedy reports that while the cut was not necessarily serious, it was severe.

Be careful how you circulate a story detrimental to the character of a woman. Your mother is a woman. Your wife is a woman. Your sweetheart is or will be a woman. Ah, there is nothing in all this world so sacred to a man as a woman's character! Better that a dozen bad women go without public censure than one poor, innocent woman should suffer from slanderous gossip.—Ex.

Phosphate.

The sale of Cooper & Whitthorne's phosphate beds will start the ball rolling. General Payne, of Boston, is the purchaser. We learned, while at Summertown a few days ago, that he had selected the site for the fertilizing works, on the branch North of town. The chief engineer of the L. & N. railroad has gone over the contemplated railroad route to Swan Creek, a distance of twelve or fourteen miles. We also learn that the General will build a handsome residence in Summertown. The company furnishes the iron and rolling stock and the phosphate company will construct it. Mr. Payne has said that a thousand men would be at work on the road and in the mines in a very short time. We congratulate our neighbor upon her future prospect for prosperity. Maury county will be largely benefitted because Maury county will necessarily be the market for produce.

The phosphate beds lying between Mt. Pleasant and Edmund Hughes are being developed and a deal is in contemplation. Major Lewis, for the L. & N. railroad looked over the ground between the points last week with a view of running a railroad from this point to Dr. Stockard's fine field of phosphate on Mr. Hughes place. There are six miles of phosphate not fully developed, but sufficiently to show that for mining purposes, half a dozen places, about a mile distant from each other, have been opened warranting the construction of a road. We hope to be in a position by next issue of the Busy South to give more definite information as to this latter property.—Busy South.

We have succeeded in making a clubbing rate with the Memphis Commercial, and now offer the Lawrence Democrat, and Commercial at $1.30 per year. There can be no excuse with this low rate for lack of news. We offer this rate to all new subscribers and all renewals.

The death of Miss Lizzie Edna Coe's was no surprise to her friends who had untiringly watched by her bed side for many months for the end that seemed so near. Miss Coe's came to Lawrenceburg over a year since, hoping that she would improve, but the hand of death had already laid its grasp upon her young life and all the skill of medical aid was in vain.

She was a cultured christian girl but only leaves a few relatives to mourn her untimely death. There is only one brother remaining of her family whose residence is unknown. Deceased was 19 years and three months old, was a niece of Uncle Daniel Guthrie, President of the Lawrence Bank & Trust Co. of this city, and it was an untiring pleasure to him to see that her every wish was granted. Miss Coe died at the home of Col. Stribling on the night of the 3rd. inst. and was entored at Mt. Ararat on Tuesday evening.

Shots at Random.

If the devil were to make a requisition on this country for all his subjects at one time, could the church rolls stand the strain.

Try you ever so hard to the contrary, the world will put you where you belong.

With congenial spirits there is mutual attraction.

The animous of ones life tells what is in the heart is true exposure.

ment of character. Character is what we are, not what we would have the world believe us to be.

My! don't some people have a straddling time trying to keep on both sides of the line of propriety.

When you see a man loafing on the streets on Sunday you may rest assured that the devil will soon tan him in some where.

A great many people when they get in to "devilment" like the cattle-fish, color the atmosphere around them with the hope of escaping unobserved.

Lots of people never say a word for christianity. Conscience make cowards of us all (Shakespeare)

The guilty sneak often plays the role of injured innocence.

When a man tries to elevate himself by slinging mud at his neighbor, he makes an open confession that he is short of merit himself.

When you see people trying to cover up their sins they are heading for the devil at a two-forty gate.

Those who really have merit never resort to doubtful methods of work in the race of life.

Desirable characters are always in demand. If there is any good in a man the world will soon discover it. If your services are not in demand it is a point against you.

Yours till the stars fall.

OVER FORTY.
